Chibub and Bunubu: The Root That Touched the Sky
Laughter often grows from friendship, curiosity, and sharing joy with others.

One sunny morning, Chibub was watering cloud flowers on his balcony when something tickled his toes.

A tree root had poked up through the clouds and was wiggling beside his balcony railing.

The root kept shaking and giggling. 'Hee-hee-hee!'
it laughed as it swayed in the breeze.

Far below, Bunubu noticed a giant root growing upward through the forest, stretching higher than the tallest trees.

Curious, Bunubu followed the root from underground tunnels all the way toward the sky.

Meanwhile, Chibub asked the root why it was giggling so much, but it only laughed harder.

When Bunubu finally reached the cloud level, he and Chibub met beside the root and listened carefully.

Suddenly, a flock of tiny Sky Sparrows burst from a hollow inside the root. Their feathers tickled the root whenever they fluttered.

The sparrows giggled, the root giggled, and soon
Chibub and Bunubu were laughing too.

The friends built a cozy sparrow perch near the balcony. From then on, the root still giggled sometimes, but everyone knew it was simply happy to have feathered friends.

About the Author

Vijay Kukreja

Vijay is a creative writer, technologist, and storyteller who enjoys turning simple ideas into imaginative stories for young readers. His stories are shaped by his own experiences, observations, family life, and curiosity about how technology can support human creativity.

With the help of AI tools, Vijay explores characters, scenes, visuals, and story worlds in new ways. He uses these tools not as a replacement for imagination, but as a creative partner to help bring playful ideas to life.

His goal is to create fun, warm, and engaging stories that children can enjoy, parents can share, and families can read together.
