Chibub and the Tiny Seed Rocket
A gentle story about big ideas, little seeds, and patient growing.

A Space Idea

Chibub looked at his moon poster.
Then he looked at a tiny seed.
“What if this seed could visit space?”

Rocket Parts

He found a paper cup and a cardboard tube.
He added stickers, tape, and shiny foil.
The seed waited in a little spoon.

Small but Brave

Chibub built a tiny rocket.
It had foil fins and a paper nose.
“It is small, but brave,” he said.

Soft Plop

He placed the seed inside.
“Three, two, one,” whispered Chibub.
The rocket tipped over with a soft plop.

Not the Moon

The seed did not fly to the moon.
It rolled across the rug instead.
Chibub gave a tiny sigh.

A Different Launch

Then Chibub saw a flowerpot by the window.
“Maybe seeds launch differently,” he said.
He filled the pot with soft soil.

Little Astronaut

He tucked the seed into the soil.
He gave it one gentle drink.
“Good luck, little astronaut,” he whispered.

Morning Checks

Chibub checked the pot every morning.
First there was only soil.
Then one green sprout peeked up.

Launching After All

The sprout grew taller and taller.
It stretched toward the sunny sky.
Chibub said, “You are launching after all!”

A Slow Rocket

At last, a golden sunflower opened wide.
It looked like a little sun beside the moon.
Chibub learned some rockets grow slowly.

About the Author

Vijay Kukreja

Vijay is a creative writer, technologist, and storyteller who enjoys turning simple ideas into imaginative stories for young readers. His stories are shaped by his own experiences, observations, family life, and curiosity about how technology can support human creativity.

With the help of AI tools, Vijay explores characters, scenes, visuals, and story worlds in new ways. He uses these tools not as a replacement for imagination, but as a creative partner to help bring playful ideas to life.

His goal is to create fun, warm, and engaging stories that children can enjoy, parents can share, and families can read together.
